NIPPON MARU MADE PLEASANT PASSAGE

Capt. Greene Unable To Take Command Of Ship

The Nippon Maru, Capt. Filmer, arrived last night at 6 p. m. from the Coast, bringing a very small passenger list and having 200 sacks of mail for this port. She reports a fine passage all the way across, Capt. Filmer saying that the good weather was shown by the arrival of the ship in an even six days from the time she left San Francisco.

The Maru was compelled to do what seems to be a regular stunt for the steamers coming here from the Coast of late, to wait four hours at anchor in the stream for mail to be taken on board. It would be interesting to see what would happen if the local mail was half an hour late. There would probably be more trouble than if the steamer sank at the dock.

Capt. Filmer, the veteran captain of the T. K. K., is still in command of the Nippon Maru, though it was expected that Capt. Greene would be able to take up his duties after his sick leave of six months. Capt. Greene himself fully expected to, and in fact did take charge of the ship while she was at the dock in San Francisco but the strain proved too much for him and the day before the Maru was to sail he broke down and Capt. Filmer was again called on to take command.

Capt. Filmer has a son who was in this port a short time ago as the captain of the Kasato Maru, also a T. K. K. boat, and the skill in navigating seems to have been handed down from father to son in this family at least. This statement pays the son a high compliment as it is recognized on the Pacific that in the position of a captain of a trans-Pacific liner Capt. Filmer Sr. has few equals.

HOLLOWAY ASKS LEGISLATURE

FOR MORE MONEY

Superintendent of Public Works Holloway, who has been making up his estimate for the Governor of the amount of money that will be required to run his department during the next biennial period, figures that he will need about $65,000 more than was appropriated by the last Legislature.

The greater part of this increase is needed for improvements and repairs to the wharves of the various ports of the Territory. Honolulu, of course, will need the larger proportion of this. The Inter-Island, Sorensen and Irmgard wharves and the small wharf on the Waikiki side of the Fort Street wharf all need repairs and improvements.

The amount to be spent at Hilo and Hanalei is not large. The Hilo wharf needs to be extended and widened, and it is estimated that it will take about $15,000 to do this work. The Territory is not deriving much revenue from the Hilo wharf at present, but with the enlargement of the facilities contemplated, there would be a considerable addition to what is now received, as the Inter-Island steamers would be able to dock there. The amount necessary for the work is not to come out of the general fund of the department.

About $5,000 or $4,000 will be needed for repairs to the Hanalei, Kauai wharf. The improvements contemplated there the erection of a derrick on the wharf.

The last Legislature appropriated $20,000 for this branch of the Department of Public Works. Superintendent Holloway wants $60,000 from the coming Legislature for the same branch.

The general expenses of the operation of the Department of Public Works are figured at $50,000 for the coming biennial period, as against $25,000 appropriated by the last Legislature.

VENTURA MET NO ROUGH WEATHER

Steamer From Australia Docked Here This Morning

The steamer Ventura arrived last night and came into dock early this morning from Australia, after one of the longest trips on record for one of the present Oceanic ships. She was due here on January 1 and her non-arrival was laid to the severe storms which have been reported. The story of storms, however, has turned out to be incorrect as pleasant weather was experienced all the way from Auckland.

The officers of the Ventura were all in a bad humor and refused to talk about the trip and when asked for information displayed a studied lack of knowledge. One volunteered the old-time information that "the crew of five men was incompetent and was unable to get up steam."

The Ventura will take on a large amount of coal and will not sail till late in the day. She brought 102 tons of miscellaneous cargo for this city and her San Francisco shipments amount to 1622 tons.

LARGE DEATH ROLL DURING DECEMBER

The Board of Health has issued the following summary of deaths occurring in Honolulu during December. The causes of death were as follows: Febrile; 4; diarrhoea; 3; septic; 2; diphtheria; 1; constitutional; 24; developmental; 8; nervous; 12; circulatory; 6; respiratory; 21; digestive; 22; urinary; 2; osseous and integumentary; 2; accident and violence; 1; Suicide; 2.

The following general summary is given: Mortality for month of December 1906: Males, 72; females, 43; total, 115. Annual death rate per 1000 of population: 35.1. Non-resident, 9; deaths investigated, 10; post mortem examinations, 7; coroner's inquest, 7; stillbirths, 5; births reported, 70; marriages reported, 16.

The total number of deaths for December, 1906, were 115, an increase of 47 compared with the corresponding month of 1905.

Thirty-two deaths occurred in public institutions.

EDITOR HERE FROM NEW ZEALAND PAPER

Among the passengers who arrived this morning on the Ventura was C. N. Baeyer, accompanied by his daughter, Miss M. Baeyer. Mr. Baeyer is the editor and proprietor of the "Triad" of New Zealand and is on a six months' vacation, during which he expects to visit various parts of the United States, England and Europe.

While spending the day in Honolulu Mr. and Miss Baeyer will take in all the sights of interest which can be reached through an automobile trip. It is their first visit to these islands and though they will be here but one day they will make the most of it.
